Any normal Apple Mac running macOS 10.14 or later or later, depending on the version of Photoshop, can run Photoshop even though the bundled Graphics Driver for macOS is a third-party driver. However, if you're not using a third-party driver (Asus, Nvida, AMD, Intel, AMD, and AMD graphics cards can be used), you will see an error message in Photoshop, "MacPaw Graphics Driver not working. To get the Photos App to work correctly, you need to install a MacPaw Graphics driver. Download the latest MacPaw Graphics driver from here." This means it needs the macOS updater to run the macOS 10.14.3. However, in older Macs you will see the following error message in Photoshop: "Hardware Graphics Driver not linking with the kernel." To resolve this error message, please follow the steps to manually find the most recent MacPaw Graphics driver.
